ODSP CHANGES ANNOUNCED

On February 8, 2006 the Minister of Community and Social Services announced a number of changes to the Ontario Disability Support Program (ODSP).

These changes will be phased in with items 1 and 2 below effective April 1, 2006. The remaining changes take effect on November 1, 2006.

Following is a summary of those changes as they affect ODSP recipients.

2. Requirements that spouses who do not have a disability and are not primary care givers look for work.
3. $500 one time grant to help recipients cover the costs of participating in a training program, looking for work, starting or changing jobs (e.g., uniform, equipment, professional fees)
4. Up to $600 per child informal child care costs while recipients look for a job, participate in training or start a new job

Keeping more of what is earned:

5. 50% of all earnings are exempt from clawback
6. $100 per month for each adult family member who is working
7. Up to $600 per child (under the age of 18) per month for informal child care costs
8. Up to $300 per month deduction for disability work-related expenses (e.g., attendant care, specialized technology/equipment)

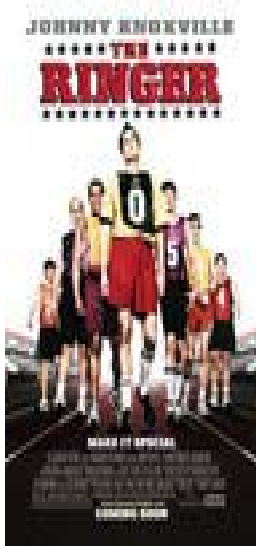

Moving toward financial independence:

9. Ongoing drug, dental and vision care benefits to recipients leaving ODSP for employment unless coverage is available from the employer
10. One-time employment transition benefit of $500 to cover the costs of starting a job for recipients leaving ODSP for employment
11. Improved rapid reinstatement into the ODSP program for recipients at any time if their job does not work out

Actors with Developmental Disabilities
Featured in New Movie

Actors with developmental disabilities are the stars of a new film called The Ringer. The Farrelly brothers directed the film about a man who pretends to have a developmental disability to rig the Special Olympics. The film includes four men with Down syndrome in speaking roles. Johnny Knoxville, of The Dukes of Hazard, plays the man who pretends to have a disability.

Special Olympics are looking for your opinion of the movie. Will viewers leave the theatre with an increased respect and understanding for individuals with developmental disabilities? Advocacy includes speaking up—whether to correct shortcomings or to congratulate endeavours. If we want to see more projects include actors with developmental disabilities we need to encourage studios to do so. If we see individuals with developmental disabilities poorly represented on screen, we need to voice our objections. So let Fox know—is it thumbs up, or thumbs down?

Thank you to C.H.A.N.G.E.S.:

Dear Peterborough and Area Down syndrome Support Group:

Mike Cusk and I would like to thank you for helping us with celebrating National Down syndrome Week. Mike is a senior one student at Valley Gardens Jr. High School in Winnipeg, Manitoba who has Down syndrome. I am Mike's Paraprofessional. We work closely together everyday.

We sold the Down syndrome awareness bracelets during that week. Mike is involved with the Builders Club here at school. It is a club that helps raise money and supports different charities or events in our community and also globally.

We raised $100.00 for the Pakistan Earthquake victims as well as celebrating National Down syndrome awareness. The students and staff were very supportive. Mike and I created a wall of information on Down syndrome. We included poems, pictures and some facts and myths on Down syndrome.

Thanks again, Nadine Friesen

Thanks for your generosity!

A Special Thank You to Allyson DeNoble for helping out in the office during Deb's surgery. Deb really appreciated all your notes and messages. Allyson's compassion for the agency goes above and beyond the Board table. She's a special person with a special daughter!

FREE HAIR CUTS!

Paul Asta's Hairstyling School on Chemong Road, has made a generous offer to C.H.A.N.G.E.S. All members, ages five and over with Down syndrome can receive a free haircut at the school on Tuesday afternoons from 1:00 to 3:30 pm. When booking your appointment, mention C.H.A.N.G.E.S. and your haircut will be free. Many thanks to Mrs. Arpa for thinking about us and making a difference in the lives of people with Down syndrome!

$3,000 DONATION

We are the recipient of a $3,000 donation from the (G.I.F.T.) Grocery Industry Foundation..Together. They generously donated funds to support our cooking program for young teens with Down syndrome. These funds were generated by their annual Cash For Kids coupon promotion, which runs every February in over 1700 Ontario grocery stores. With your support of this event, it enables G.I.F.T. to put financial support back into communities across Ontario. C.H.A.N.G.E.S. continues to build relationships, support and awareness of Down syndrome across the country.

KUDOES TO K & J ELECTRIC

Kevin McNulty and his guys, Jeff and Dan, donated their time and equipment to update the wiring in our kitchen to accommodate the new stove we purchased with our donation from G.I.F.T. These guys had to make a few visits to the office so we really appreciate their efforts to help us out!!!! Thanks guys!!!
